Dear David,

Ex. 5 Deliberative Process (DP)

Regarding your comment #5 below, I absolutely agree that Appendix D should be published in a peer-review scientific journal and I encourage you to do so. Some time ago I was thinking about this possibility and found the appendix feasible to be adapted to the structure of a scientific paper. Only Material and Methods would be somewhat difficult to draft, but this does not represent a problem for you and James Nguyen. I offer myself to collaborate in this task if needed. Maybe some examples you made with paraquat and Parkinson's disease could also be included as they indicated that effect size magnification was minimal or that some studies are adequately sized to produce elevated OR values. The fact that the Opinion (including the Appendix D) is published in EFSA Journal is not a objection to publish the same content in peer-review journals.

Keep in touch,
Antonio

Thanks, Antonio.

From the look of the comments you sent re: Annex D, it looks like I struck a bit of a nerve with some folks !

I will communicate with Matteo and Ioanna and Thohallur (separate from you) to see their thoughts while I draft up a response, but I will offer up a few quick thoughts:

1.
